RECENT PUBLICATIONS.

The Historical and Scientific Society of Manitoba has sent us the annual report and transactions for the year 1886-7. From the report we are pleased to see the society is in a flourishing condition, and the published transactions are proof of the excellent work the members are doing in the direction of scientific research and the department of history proper, as well as the subsidiary branches of archeology and natural history. The transactions embrace a communication on the "Chinook Winds" by Mr. A. Bowerman, M.A. and a geological paper entitled "The Footsteps of Time in the Red River Valley" by Mr. A. McCharles, which both give evidence of careful study. In the historical section we have a very readable paper on "The French Element in the Canadian Northwest" by Rev. Lewis Drummond, priest of the Society of Jesus—another on "Some Red River Settlement History" by Mr. C. Bell, F.R.G.S., and a monograph by Mr. A. McArthur on "The Fate of Thomas Simpson, the Arctic Explorer," whose story the accomplished author still leaves involved in mystery. There is an excellent paper on the "Antiquities of the Souris Country" by Professor Bryce, while in Natural history there is a valuable and apparently complete "List of the Mammals of Manitoba" by Mr. Ernest E. Thompson and an interesting treatise on "Our Winter Birds" by Mr. A. McArthur, who seems quite at home in describing the appearance and habits of the feathered tribes.

We have received a copy of "Political Manual of Manitoba and North West Territories" by J. P. Robertson, Librarian of the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba, which has been recently published in Winnipeg. This manual is in some measure arranged on the plan of the "Dominion Annual Register," and is replete with information on the political history of Manitoba and the Territories from the earliest settlement down to date of the recent general election. Besides details of the late and former elections it contains much that is now knowledge concerning Manitoba Assembly, the Civil Service, the Government of the North West Territories and kindred subjects, biographical sketches of living celebrities and obituary notices of deceased public men whose lives have been identified with this portion of the Dominion. There is also a useful chapter of miscellanea, a complete index, a map and numerous illustrations comprising portraits, views of public buildings and such like. The book is written from an honest and independent point of view, and we trust the entire price of the author will be duly recognized.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We are now well entered upon the dull season in journalism—the season traditionally and universally devoted to the serious chronicling of abnormal "hen fruit," fish stories, the sea-serpent and such like. With the prerogative of important public affairs die away for a time and local prints devote themselves to local topics. Our legislators are now spread far and wide—some to their homes to attend to their own affairs, some to enjoy a holiday abroad, while the members of the Executive Government in some instances stick to business at head quarters and in others combine business with pleasure in discharging what may be called the outside duties of their several departments. Running questions have for a moment burnt themselves out. The fishery dispute is scarcely heard of the Wiman crusade in favor of commercial union has for the present come to a stand, and even the promoters of the Red River Valley Railway are not the heroes they were a few weeks ago.

In the imperial Parliament, Ireland continues to monopolize almost the whole time and attention of Lords and Commons. If we were to consider the few by-elections which have lately been held as a decided expression of public feeling in general, then it would have to be admitted that said public feeling was again veering around for Mr. Gladstone's views. But "one swallow does not make a summer" and both conservatives and liberal unionists are as strong as ever in their determination to pass both the Crimes Bill and the Land Bill. The expressed desire of all political parties is to bring peace and prosperity to Ireland. The methods proposed are different. The country refused to endorse Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule proposals and conservative legislation became in order, hence the position at present. We have no sympathy whatever for Mr. Gladstone's efforts towards Home Rule, because they decidedly point towards separation and disintegration. Neither can we agree with him in his recent speeches to the Welch, in as far as these are to be regarded as a plea for their living in separation from the other nationalities of Great Britain. The perpetuation of distinctions in national origin is not only indiscreet but mischievous. We have only to look at home here in Canada to be convinced of that and we therefore think it is the part of all good statesmen not to emphasize race prejudices but to foster real union.

Immigration into the Territories via Winnipeg continues on an increasing scale. The position of agriculturists in Great Britain and other old countries is not improving but the reverse, and the abundance of our present crop will have a direct tendency to still further enlarge the number of immigrants next season.

Lactated Food, Carmick's Soluble Food, Papoua and Nestle Milk Food at Clark's Drug Store.

RAMBLING.

We spent several days last week rambling through the country and were more than delighted with our trip. The delightful rains of the season have made a very luxuriant growth of grain and grass. The farmers were all preparing for harvest, and seemed to be well equipped with good weather. We do not think it has ever been so hot to see such magnificent crops as are in this district this year, either in Ontario or the world round. During our ramble we visited several farms, the first being Mr. John Stewart's. This gentleman is principally engaged in stock raising and at present has a large herd of fine cattle. He is getting his farm in good order and is preparing a large area for crop next season. We then proceeded to the farm of Mr. T. O. Davis, where we were kindly received and hospitably entertained. Mr. Davis has purchased one of the finest farms in the district; has erected on it a large and commodious dwelling, and then to build barns and sheds for his large stock of horses and cattle. This is the first season Mr. Davis has resided on his farm and from all appearances will make one of the most pushing and enterprising farmers. Mr. Davis has a large area for crop next season, thus showing his confidence in the country. We then went along and visited the farm of Mr. J. C. McKenzie. This gentleman although not long engaged in farming is getting everything in apple pie order. He has one of the best dwellings in the district and is building a fine stable. His stock looks well and his crop, which consists of oats, barley, wheat and potatoes, is excellent. In company with Mr. McKenzie we visited the farms of Mr. Hiram Harkness and of Mr. Geo. Robinson and the crops on each were looking excellent. On the farm of the latter we saw a field of timothy that fully convinced us of its successful growth in this country, and have no hesitation in saying that the field we saw will yield three tons or over to the acre. On Saturday, in company with Mr. T. O. Davis and Mr. T. Simms we visited the farm of Thompson Bros., sec. 10 Tp. 47, R. 25, which seems particularly well adapted for stock. When we arrived there we found them preparing the sickle for cutting grass. After our arrival Mr. John Thompson went out and brought in their herd of thoroughbreds, and such a sight! nearly every one a model of beauty. Their herd is well worth seeing and reflects great credit upon their enterprise. They have also a large flock of shropshire downs. These gentlemen do very little farming, devoting most of their time to their stock. We have no doubt they will continue to hold a high place at the Lorne Agricultural Society as successful exhibitors.

A visit through this district will convince the most sceptical of its great fertility and its adaptability to mixed farming. We may feel proud that our town is situated in the midst of one of the most fertile districts in the world. All we want now is railway connection and then we may rest assured that Prince Albert will be the "Great metropolis" of the west, and when we get the Hudson's Bay Ry., the "centre of the world."

High Ryan, contractor for the railway to the boundary, is in Toronto. He expressed his opinion that the Manitoba Government would be unable to provide the necessary funds for its construction. Shortly afterwards he was closed for a considerable time with General Manager Van Hous and Assistant General Manager Shagheensky, of the Canadian Pacific.

It is understood that the franchise have been appointed to the archbishops of Montreal and Ottawa. The archbishops to the east are bishops of Sherbrooke and St. Hyacinthe. It is stated these appointments have been made pending several ecclesiastical changes which will take place in the province shortly and which include the creation of Joliet into a diocese.

One of the evils of the present militia system came to light the other day when one Landry was arrested for stealing a rifle from the L'Assomption battalion. It seems he was engaged as a dummy to fill the ranks during camp and when it was over was sent about his business, but forgot to leave his rifle behind.

It is stated by the friends of Sir Adolphe Caron that he has promised to see the Montreal garrison artillery out of the difficulty regarding gunnery shooting certificates. If this is the case some fun may be expected as Major-General Middleton has intimated that he does not propose backing down.

The C. P. R. has about completed arrangements for running trains over the Michigan Central road to Detroit. They intend to reach Chicago via the Wabash. Trains will run subject to Michigan Central rules, but controlled by Canadian Pacific crews, with their own motive power.

The feeling aroused at O'Brien's visit is not yet dead. Lately two Orange and Roman Catholic bands, each playing party tunes, met in Toronto and stone throwing began. A serious row was threatened, but a fire alarm sounded and the crowd dispersed.

Hon. Mr. Chapleau is very indignant at the report that he owns an orange grove in California, and gives the report a denial. He leaves for Europe on the 23rd where he will undergo an operation in Paris similar to that performed three years ago.

The coal dealers of Montreal have formed a combination to advance prices, notwithstanding the abolition of the duty and consequently there is great anger among the citizens.

The C. P. R. has decided to connect the Hamilton branch with Dundas at the engineering difficulties are not too great.

The local branch of the Irish National League has invited the Earl of Aberdeen and Mr. Gladstone to visit Toronto.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. Thos. Rodgers was removed on Thursday last to the Police hospital in the east end.

Rev. Mr. Atwater, of Lindsay, has fine seat to visit his family near Brandon, Manitoba.

Among the arrivals last week by steamer, North West, we omitted the name of W. V. Maclean, Crown Prosecutor, who had been to Battleford attending the High Court of Justice.

Judge McGuire left on Saturday morning for Kingston. He will return about the middle of September and will be accompanied by his family.

Mr. E. J. Cann of the Post-office Book Store left on Wednesday for Toronto, to purchase his fall and winter stock. Although Mr. Cann has not been two years in the place yet during the short time he has been in business amongst us, he has built a large and increasing business. During his absence he intends visiting his old home in Hamilton. We wish him a pleasant trip and a safe return.

The second robbery that has taken place in this town was on Sunday evening last. On Sunday Mr. E. F. Good fellow, who keeps a grocery and provision store on the corner of River and McKay streets, took a drive with his family into the country returning late in the evening, and supposing everything was all right, he did not go to the store opening the store in the morning, he was surprised to find it had been entered during the night. The robber was not greedy and did not take all in the building, but did the next thing to it, he took all he could carry and did not forget to relieve the cash box of the surplus money left for Monday's change. Mr. Good fellow has no idea who the party is.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? I so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, there is no mistake about it. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the best and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

EXAMINATION AND PICNIC.

On Friday the 22nd inst. the annual examination of St. Andrews School was held and as usual the occasion was taken advantage of to organize a picnic for the enjoyment of children, friends and visitors. The day was beautifully fine, and there was a large assemblage of residents and friends from other districts.

The examination was commenced early and continued till nearly 2 o'clock in the afternoon without intermission, and with unflagging interest. It is a great pleasure to see the work done in St. Andrews School, which fully maintains the high reputation acquired under the genial sway of Mr. Germond, backed by a Board of Trustees quite alive to the importance of encouraging the educational interest of the parish. At present there are fifty-seven names on the roll, with about fifty in average attendance. This is a larger number than was contemplated when the present school building was planned, and there is consequently something like crowding when all the children are present. We were, however, glad to learn from the trustees that having regard to the health and comfort of the scholars and teacher, they contemplate a considerable addition to the accommodation. The necessity of this measure being self-evident, it cannot be too soon carried out.

The proceedings in the school were begun with the youngest or alphabet class and continued up through the other grades to the senior division, which was exercised in grammar, history, geography, arithmetic and other branches. It has been truly enough said "there is no royal road to learning," but there are doubtless some roads more direct and some more interesting and enticing than others. Mr. Germond's system is in some degree peculiar to himself, and it seems to us the methods he adopts are eminently calculated to attain the end in view, namely, the sound education of the whole class, while they are by no means repulsive of the praiseworthy aspirations of individual ability.

The class as a whole made a gratifying appearance in each department. There was much intelligent knowledge displayed, indicating careful grounding in the various subjects, as was very clearly shown in the course of the cross-examination of each other, which the pupils conducted on the lessons of the day. There was a very excellent display of penmanship, and the committee of ladies who adjudicated on the girls' specimens had no little difficulty in deciding the awards. The boys also showed to advantage in this department. The proceedings were agreeably diversified by some recitations and singing, which were rendered with taste and precision, and we were pleased to note that all the selections were solid pieces of acknowledged merit that had stood the test of years.

After the examination was concluded Mr. Andrew Spence, Chairman of trustees who, presided, made a short speech in which he pointed out with great ease the advantage of a thorough education. He impressed upon the children how thankful they ought to be that such educational advantages were now within reach as they had in the parish of St. Andrews, advantages which, he regretted to say had not been available when many of their parents were of school age. He spoke in high terms of those settlers in St. Andrews who, before the school ordinance was passed, had exerted themselves, even when their circumstances were straitened, to provide good education for their children and he was sure that now when their prospects were improving they would not go back from the good work. He had always thought teachers as a class were poorly remunerated for their labors and he congratulated the St. Andrews School district on having in Mr. Germond a teacher thoroughly qualified for his work and who took the most praiseworthy interest in every child placed under his charge.

Capt. Craig was then called upon and made a few remarks on behalf of the visitors. He congratulated all concerned on the marked success of the examination. The work of the school showed no falling off since last year. There was the same aptitude and intelligence on the part of the pupils, and the same evidence of care and zeal on the part of the teacher. The visitors had been greatly interested and gratified by the day's proceedings.

Mr. Chas. Adams then shortly addressed the scholars in eulogistic terms on the general work of the school. He was much pleased to be able to announce that for next year Mr. John Stewart of Prince Albert had kindly promised a silver medal as a prize for the best scholar, which he was sure would be an incentive to continue exertion.

Mr. Massey also addressed a few sentences to the children: replete with good advice, and Mr. Germond having wound up with a few words: thanking parents and friends for their kindly countenance, this portion of the proceedings was closed by the children, led by Mr. Adams singing a verse of the Queen's Anthem.

Time would fail us to tell of the luncheon and the games and the dancing and enjoyment that followed the more serious business of the day. Suffice to say that everything being well managed was thoroughly enjoyed, and this meeting of 1887 has left most pleasant memories behind.

CRICKET.

The third match between the N.W.M. Police and Prince Albert cricket clubs was played on Saturday the 23rd inst.

More than common interest was manifested on this occasion from the following facts: First, that before his departure for the east, Mr. J. F. Bette notified the cricketers that he would give a medal to the one who made the highest score in either club. Second, that each club had a defeat to play off, and it was believed, this would be the last of the season.

Heavy rains fell during the forenoon and it was feared there would be no match, but ere noon the sun made its appearance and by one o'clock the grounds were in splendid condition. Indeed the condition of the grounds placed the game almost entirely in the hands of the bowlers as will be seen by the subjoined score. We think special mention is due to Mr. Geo. R. Bird, because in addition to his powerful bowling throughout the match he made the top score of the day and gracefully retired with the fine score of 23 which, considering the state of ground and the excellent bowling of the Police team, is a good score, captured the medal and contributed in a great measure towards winning the match.

The greatest excitement prevailed at the close of the game, but the ball was tipped over mid-wicket's head fortwo, which settled the question in favor of P. A. team by one run.

After the match the Police were invited to Pollock's for dinner. The Hon. C. Clarke and Col. Spry were also guests of the P. C. C. and contributed largely towards the enjoyment of the evening. The dinner was served in excellent style the smiling hostess bustling about in a manner which extended a happy welcome to the hungry cricketers, who did justice to the good things provided for them. Then followed the usual toasts, speeches, songs etc. until eleven o'clock, when a most enjoyable evening closed with the National Anthem. Following is the score:
